For those in the Haunt community in Southern California and those various SoCal Haunter Clubs out there like CalHauntS and SoCal Valley Haunters. HauntX brings to the community and early start on that long road to Halloween night.

So if you a haunter, a pro established Haunted House, a yard display, Someone who wants to do more than colored lights and some store bought props. HauntX is for you.

At HauntX we are here for the Haunt Community that is thriving here in Southern California, what with all of the big daddy's out there like Halloween Horror Nights, Knotts Scary Farm, Queen Marys Dark Harbor and Fright fest to name a few and then there's those ambitious home haunters who put on and bring it just as much as the big daddy's do like Rotten Apple 907 in Burbank. Well this show is for those and everyone else who likes everything to do with Halloween and Haunted yards, displays and Pro Haunts.

Haunt X: The Ultimate DIY Haunters Expo is opening its doors back again in SoCal (where originally birthed) for those who are creatively minded Halloween enthusiasts, and those young, bold minds eager to achieve knowledge and bring on their own haunt experience for guest, this is for you at the Pomona Fairplex on Feb. 23 and 24 in Building 9.

"If It's Haunted It's Here!" That's what we say at HauntX, so to back that up we have over 30 classes and panels of famous people you may only know from the foggy Knotts Ghost town, the Plastic smell of skeletons that make up Boney Island, and those famous faces you saw on FACEOFF, down to some of the most enthusiastic home haunters in SoCal all here to tell you the ins and outs of it all from the people and not the machine.

What else could we possibly offer other than that? Well, we have hand picked some local haunt and Halloween exhibitors who will also be a part of HauntX from local businesses like FogItUpFog, Haunted Ladies, TheHauntStore, Hotwire Foam Factory, Immersive Parties and so many more.

But wait that's not all come also to experience the latest VR haunted Raft Ride and get the inside scoop on Escape Room facts from Escape Chronicles.

And if that wasn't enough we will have movie style Photo Op displays for your Social Media Selfies and have the opportunity to have meet and greet booths with Knott's Monster's and the ladies of FACEOFF (both on panels.)

So take a moment to join our haunted February weekend and celebrate Halloween and Haunting early this year.
